

Artur Geisari

Founder and CEO of Monify

Artur Geisari is the founder and CEO of Monify, a fintech company disrupting SME lending. In the past four years, Artur guided his business through seed stages and a large portfolio development in Baltic States and Poland.

Graduated from the Stockholm School of Economics, Artur lead several companies across different verticals and worked for Ernst & Young Baltic, auditing companies in financial and accounting aspects – an experience, that gave him a great insight into issues that companies face each day. Solving some of those issues became Monify's mission.